Artwork is an integral component to a well designed space, whether it be a corporate office, an institution, a multi-unit residential development, or a private home.

Choose an image of an interior design project which uses art in a thoughtful way. It may be a rendering or a photograph and it may be your own design, or the work of another designer or Registered member of ARIDO.

In one page, please write a description of why you selected this particular design, and why you think the Interior Designer used artwork in a thoughtful way. Describe how the art impacted the overall design.

You may include up to 3 additional supporting images. Please give credit to the interior designer and photographer of your chosen space. And have fun!
