DESIGNATED ENTRANTS

Only ARIDO Registered members in good standing are eligible to submit projects, and only ARIDO Registered members will receive awards.

When project responsibilities are equally shared among several ARIDO members, up to 3 Registered members can be listed as the Designated Entrant.

Designated Entrant(s) must:

- be the lead Interior Designer(s) on the project and the one(s) who had primary responsibility, and influence on the creative design direction, project process, and final outcome.
- have been a Registered Member in good standing with ARIDO at the time of project completion and occupancy as well as at the time of the Awards submission.
- must accept responsibility for the accuracy of all information submitted.
- certify that their work was completed and ready for occupancy after this year's occupancy deadline.
- acknowledge(s) that the work submitted is their own, or was completed under their direct supervision by employees of the Designated Entrant(s).

Retired members who were a Registered Member in good standing at the time of the project's completion will be accepted as Designated Entrants.

Non-resident Registered members are not eligible to submit projects to the Awards. (continued on next page)

Company Team

All individuals, having made a significant contribution to the project as employees of the design firm part of the design team, must be listed.

This includes those individuals who are no longer employed with the design firm but may hold the rights to the project, and non-members who are employed by the design firm and made a significant contribution to the project.

Joint Venture/ Co-Design Partnership

If the project was a joint venture or partnership in co-design, please list the joint venture or co-design partner(s).

To be eligible, the ARIDO Registered Member(s) of the joint venture/co- design partnership must have been the lead Interior Designer(s) or an equal Designer in all respects on the project. The non-member of the joint venture/co-design partnership cannot be the lead designer of the project.

Project Team

All companies and/or individuals who made a significant contribution to the project as part of the project team, but not as employees of the design firm, may be listed.

Scope of Work

The submission categories encompass the complete scope of work of interior design professionals.

If the project is a chain store or branch office, the designer who developed the original corporate or retail standard is the only person permitted to submit the entry.

The JUDGING PROCESS

Each entry is judged on its own merit by a panel of representatives from the profession and industry. Judging is based primarily on three main categories: Design Concept, Design Solution, and Project Results.

Each category is worth the following amount:

|--|-------------|
| Overall design and team statement | 10% |
| Design concept, plans, budget information | 30% |
| Project visuals (photos, renderings, etc.) | 30% |
| Equity, diversity, and inclusion | 15% |
| Sustainability and/or wellness approach | 15% |
| Total | 100% |

Bonus Points

Project success statement: team/client/facility/users/etc. 5%

Winner of category must achieve 85% or higher.

The judging process is confidential and facilitated by ARIDO staff. Judges will not know the identity of the entrants.

Individuals or firms who submit projects for consideration are not permitted to sit on the ARIDO Awards jury.

IMPACT AWARD

Launched in 2021, the Impact Award is an exciting new component of the ARIDO Awards.

It replaces Project of the Year and will have a broad spectrum of considerations, with its own criteria.

The winning project must demonstrate a significant impact on an occupant or end user, neighbourhood, community, project team etc. It need not be built space.

The project submission must clearly explain how it has shaped or will shape an outcome or direct benefits, and address issues such as equity, diversity, or inclusion, advocacy, sustainability, economic considerations or several interrelated issues.
